Not illustrated. 1853 Excerpt: .months and days (Sabbaths same as ours), a copy of the Ten Commandments with Commentary, another of Genesis, tho record of their revelation, the rules for the organization of their army, sundry edicts issued on the first establishment of their sway, ceremonials, hymn.1?, c. c., and comprising altogether a most interesting and extraordinary collection. They profess in the clearest manner faith in the expiatory sacrifice of our Saviour as the only means of reaching heaven, and altogether they present a most astonishing compound of truth and error. Some here call them Mormonites, some Puritans, some Fanatics, and a hundred other names; but the fact is, wo scarcely know sufficient of them, even now, to judge what they truly are, and what they intend. A letter, also, from the British chaplain at Shangnao, written to.mo immediately after the return of the British steamer from Nankin, contains...
