Dimensions: 8.5in. x 5.5in. x 0.3in.Human Nature is a term most frequently used and yet little understood. The average person knows in a general way what is meant by it but very few are able to give an off-hand definition of the term or to state what in their opinion constitutes the real essence of the thought expressed by this familiar phrase. Human Nature means the nature of man or mankind. Nature, in this usage, means: The natural disposition of mind of any person; temper; personal character; individual constitution; the peculiar mental characteristics and attributes which serve to distinguish one person from another. Thus we see that the essence of the nature of mankind, or of a particular human being, is the mind, the mental qualities, characteristics, properties and attributes. Human Nature is then a phase of psychology and subject to the laws, principles and methods of study, examination and consideration of that particular branch of science. Human Nature expresses itself in two general phases: the phase of Inner States; and the phase of Outer Forms. These two phases, however, are not separate...
